'The Thirteenth Apostle,' Eighth Book by Bernie Smith

AUTHOR: I've been reading Bernie Smith's latest book. It is the eighth book published that was prepared by the evangelist from Harrisburg who has travelled from coast to coast in the United States, in Europe, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Cuba and Old Mexico.

Right now Mr. and Mrs. Smith are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Smith, on North Jackson street. He is an ordained elder and commissioned evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene, which has national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., serving in that capacity since he left the faculty of Olivet Nazarene college in Kankakee, Ill., in 1948.

But back to his latest book, which has the title, "The Thirteenth Apostle." This book contains 27 devotional sermons, and they're interesting as well as good. The book, released 90 days ago, is now in its second printing, and the publishers, the Beacon Hill Press, have granted permission for a portion of the book to be printed in braille by an organization in New York City.

Dr. J. Russell Gardner of Pasadena college sums up the book better than of Timmo could do, and I'm going to quote some of the things Dr. Gardner has to say about "The 13th Apostle."

He says: "If the criteria for an interesting sermon are 'thought, truth and language,' spiced with brevity, clarity and wit, then the book entitled 'The Thirteenth Apostle' may well be characterized as a book of interesting sermons."

"But yet, after having read the manuscript for these 27 stimulating studies, we feel that they are really 'sermon hearts,' rather than complete homiletical treatises. Etchings of sermonic truth they are, rather than ponderous developments of doctrinal themes."

"And this, we believe, is in exact accord with the writer's fundamental purpose. This purpose, as we envision it, was two-fold: first, to enable him to read who runs; and second, to enable him who does read to run better the race that is set before him."

"Devotional in spirit, illuminating in content, and challenging in appeal, they constitute one more inspiring utterance out of the thought and life of their author — another spray of magnificence laid down at his Master's feet."

When Evangelist Smith and Mrs. Smith leave this vacation trip to Harrisburg, he will spend a month in the Province of Alberta, in Canada, and two months in the State of Washington, doing evangelistic work. He expects to be back in Harrisburg before Christmas.

But his speaking schedule is arranged for about two years in advance, and if international conditions permit, he will accept invitations to return to Europe for city-wide rallies, then continue on a round-the-world evangelistic tour of Europe, Africa, Asia and ending at Manila in the Philippines.

Publish Final Notice for Personal Property Taxes

A final notice to all citizens of Saline county who have not paid their personal property taxes is being published in today's Register. These taxes were delinquent June 1, 1955.

Paragraph 692, Chapter 120, Revised Statutes of Illinois provides as follows:

"... It shall be the duty of the collector to levy the same, together with the costs and charges that may accrue by distress and sale of the personal property of the person, company or corporation who ought to pay the same."

Maynard Cannon, county collector, in making the final notice delinquent today "It is my hope that delinquent taxpayers will come to my office and pay their taxes to avoid the additional costs that must necessarily be added. I certainly do not want to add these costs, but under the law I am forced to do so."

Korean Leader Gives Okay to Demonstrations

Warns Communists Again Planning to Attack South Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — President Syngman Rhee said today the Republic of Korea no longer feels bound by the armistice terms and that he is determined to recover South Korean territory south of the 38th Parallel now held by the Communists.

The 80-year-old Korean leader gave his blessing to the nationwide demonstrations against Communist members of state inspection teams and said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave him a solemn promise a year ago to get them out of South Korea.

Rhee, in an exclusive interview, warned that the Communists again were planning to attack South Korea and told the United States not to repeat "the mistake it made in 1950 of believing the Communists are not going to attack us." He told of the Red's illegal military buildup in the north.

The wrinkled but spry old man, appearing in excellent health, met this correspondent in the living room of his house where he made a number of major points. He drove home these points by waving his arms and by pounding the table with his fist.

Stresses Eight Points

In the hour-long interview Rhee declared:

1. "The Republic of Korea no longer feels bound by the terms of the armistice agreement. We demand the armistice agreement be abolished. We promised to support it for 90 days. That was two years ago. We have no obligation now. The Reds have violated the armistice."

2. Dulles told him during his Washington visit last year the United States would do all it could to get the Communist members of the Neutral Supervisory Commission out of South Korea.

"Nothing has happened," Rhee said. He said he understood Dulles has invited members of the United Nations to consider the problems of "getting these Communist spies out... but he should have done it long ago."

3. He told Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, U. N. Far East commander, that "something must come from the United States or the Communists to solve this problem right away... these Poles and Czechs have been going around freely, spying, taking pictures and hiring Koreans to work for them under the protection of the Americans."

4. Lemnitzer "was amazed when I told him what had been going on... Washington's policy has been not to do anything but we Koreans cannot just sit and let the spies do their work while the Communists up north get ready to come down and kill us."

Have Government Support

5. Koreans demonstrating against the Communist trustee inspectors "have the support of the government. Both the people and the government want these spies out." General Lemnitzer came here worried about these demonstrations. But I told him we would not use violence and he felt very much relieved.

6. "There are rumors going around that the Americans have orders to shoot, but General Lemnitzer said he has not given orders to shoot. These rumors cause trouble because the Korean people don't understand why the Americans would protect a Communist spy and shoot their Korean friends and allies."

7. "Everybody knows the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission has not functioned as planned so why not face the fact and abolish it? The Swiss have advocated its abolition."

8. "The demonstrations will end only when the Communist spies go north and when the Communist troops withdraw from the portion of the Ongjin Peninsula south of the 38th Parallel."

Eisenhower Signs Minimum Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — About two million workers are scheduled to get pay boosts under the new federal minimum wage bill signed into law by President Eisenhower Friday.

Most of the workers due for increases are employed in industries in the South.

The law hikes the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour. It may have an indirect effect on others of the 24 million workers covered by the wage-hour laws.

These include workers in interstate commerce and in manufacturing plants making goods for sale in interstate commerce.

Denton Seeks Release From Hospital For Criminally Insane

Sylvester Denton, sentenced to the Illinois Security hospital at Menard after he was found to be insane at the time he bludgeoned his mother and sister to death in 1949 at Eldorado, is seeking his release from the hospital for the criminally insane.

Denton was charged with the murder of his mother, Ida Davis, 79, and his sister, Mildred Gibson, 58, but later was determined to be insane.

His petition, filed in circuit court here, asks that he obtain restoration of his sanity and civil rights and be discharged from custody. It contends he has recovered from his insanity.

Denton was 50 years of age when he killed his mother and sister March 7, 1949.

Russia to Cut Armed Forces By 640,000

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia announced today it will cut its armed forces strength by 640,000 men within four months.

It was the first massive Soviet demobilization order since World War II.

The announcement by Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the move was prompted by recent world developments which show a certain "relaxation of international tension." It said the demobilization of army and navy personnel is to be achieved by Dec. 15.

Previously the Soviets said they would discharge some 45,000 troops withdrawn from Austrian occupation duty. It was not known if these would be included in the 640,000 announced today.

Despite the proposed cut, Russia will still have a marked edge over the United States in number of military personnel. Western military experts put the ground strength of Russia and its satellites at 4½ million with another 1½ million in the Communist air forces. The United States has an armed force of just under three million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials today saw little likelihood of any further cuts in U. S. forces in the foreseeable future despite a reported plan to slash Soviet military manpower.

They pointed out that even if the Soviet reduction of 640,000 men by Dec. 15 goes into effect it still would leave Russia by far the world's leader in overall troop strength.

Muddy Man Admits Drug Store Theft

Dean Hamilton, 20, of Muddy, today was in the Saline county jail, held on a charge of grand larceny, after he admitted stealing $77 or $78 from the Barber drug store Wednesday night.

Hamilton was picked up by White county authorities at Carmi for questioning after he converted a large amount of change into currency, and when Sheriff William T. Barrett and Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed questioned him at Carmi, he admitted the Barber drug store theft.

Hamilton said he entered the drug store about 8:30 p. m. Wednesday and hid in the rear of the store. When the store closed around 10 p. m., he said, he took $77 or $78. Then he remained in the store until about 12:30 a. m., when he figured no passerby would see him leaving.

He waived preliminary hearing yesterday on the charge and his bond was set at $2,000.

Young Freed Airman Leaves Attorney's Office Alone After Talk with Wife

NEVADA CITY, Calif. (AP) — Airman Daniel Schmidt apparently lost the first round today in his battle to win back his wife who remarried while he was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists.

The 23-year-old airman walked out of an attorney's office alone early today after a three-hour conference with his wife, Una, and her attorney, Harold Berliner.

"I have nothing to say," the recently-released airman told the horde of reporters, photographers and newsmen men that crowded outside the attorney's office.

"You'll get a statement in the very near future... three or four days maybe a week."

He said he planned to stay in Nevada City and would appreciate a little privacy. However, he said he would not be staying with Una.

A few minutes later, Mrs. Schmidt left the attorney's office with the couple's two and one-half year old son, whom Schmidt had

Rhee Postpones Deadline to Oust Neutral Group

Demonstrators Beaten Back at U. S. Compound

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — South Korean demonstrators were beaten back in three new attempts to storm U. S. compounds today. A short time later President Syngman Rhee postponed the midnight deadline for the ouster of neutral nations true supervisors from this country.

Two hours before the midnight (9:30 a. m. CST) mark set by the Republic of Korea government for the Communist true inspectors to leave, Rhee announced that he was postponing the deadline "for several more days."

The first attack was made by a mob of 200 to 300 Koreans who attempted to rush the gates of a U. S. Air Force compound at Kunsan. They were stopped by tear gas.

Later, government-inspired demonstrators struck twice at American-held Wolmi island in Inchon harbor.

Korean war veterans told newsmen that one of their number was shot and wounded by an American guard during one of the assaults on Wolmi-Do. But a U. S. Army officer on the island said, "I don't believe the report."

Rhee Postpones Deadline

Rhee, in a special statement handed to newsmen, urged South Korean citizens "not to go too far but endeavor to make them (the true inspectors) leave promptly by arousing public opinion."

"According to foreign news dispatches," Rhee's statement said, "the assistant U. S. secretary of state, Walter Robertson, met with our ambassador and gave a message to me and then stated that the U. S. State Department will study means to solve this problem promptly and peacefully."

Rhee added that, as a result, "We should not allow the situation to lead to a conflict."

"Our patriotic people should be patient and put off the deadline several more days to achieve their objectives," he said.

Confiscate Two Air Rifles from Boys After Man Struck Near Eye

Chief of Police Ross Lane said he confiscated two air rifles from two boys on East Walnut street yesterday after a pellet from one of the guns struck a man about a quarter of an inch from an eyeball.

The man, Lane said, came into the police station, blood streaming down his face, and reported the incident. He said the boys apparently were shooting at birds and that a stray pellet struck him.

Lane found the boys and took the air rifles.

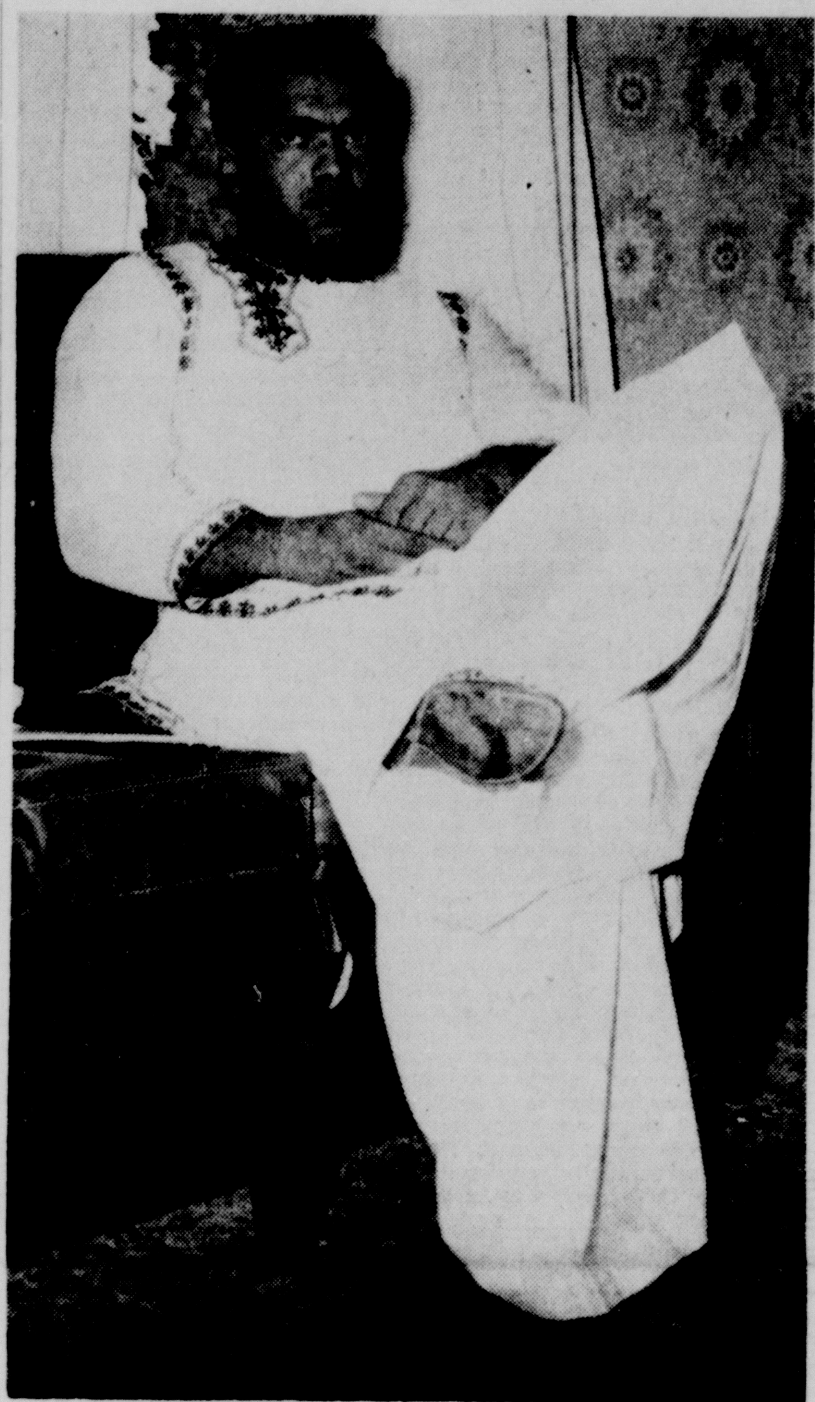

The chief said that he will not tolerate shooting of air rifles in the city limits. A city ordinance prohibits shooting them within the corporate limits and there also is a state law against shooting of song birds, he added.

Three Placed Under Bond In County Court

Three men arraigned in county court yesterday pleaded innocent to charges and each was placed under bond of $500.

Visitor from Pakistan Observes Farming Methods During Stay in Gallatin County

SADARDIN M. RASHADI, Pakistan farmer, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold West of Cottonwood, while on a tour of the United States to observe farming methods in this country. He is visiting here under the sponsorship of the International Farm Youth Exchange. He farms on a large scale, owning 1,900 acres and having an additional 2,000 under lease. He has toured the area dressed as most working men, wearing heavy shoes, khaki shirt and pants. How- ever, he donned native house clothing—loose fitting, two piece attire and beautiful red and gold slippers—for a Daily Register photo. He is active in community affairs in his home community, near Nawabshah, Pakistan. Mr. and Mrs. West and children take an active part in community affairs in Gallatin county and in farm bureau, home bureau and 4-H work and in addition to cultivating several hundred acres, Mr. West teaches the Cottonwood school, a part of the Ridgway unit system. Forestry-Wildlife Project for Shawnee Forest Announced

Will Provide Technician to Manage Game

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Completion of plans for development of a cooperative forestry-wildlife management project in the Shawnee National Forest of southern Illinois was announced today by Director Glen D. Palmer of the Department of Conservation.

The program was lined up under a previously established cooperative arrangement, with E. N. Lee, forest supervisor of the Shawnee National Forest.

Assigned to Project

Director Palmer also announced that William H. Casey of Mt. Vernon, a game biologist with the department for nearly three years, has been assigned to the Shawnee project on a full time basis. Casey will assume his new duties on Sept. 1.

"This is almost the last frontier of free hunting left in Illinois," Director Palmer declared today. "The Forest Service and the department hope to develop the Shawnee area to the fullest degree for public use."

Supervisor Lee called the cooperative program "the key project in Illinois for game management." "It will permit us to coordinate more adequately," he added, "our other work in forestry management with the maximum production of wildlife."

"We have 210,000 acres of wooded land open to hunting, free of federal regulations," the forest supervisor declared.

"Hunters, of course, must comply with state laws in use of the region. The Forest Service welcomes the chance to work more closely with Illinois conservation department and will give Mr. Casey every assistance within our means to improve hunting conditions on federal lands."

Sizable Game Population

Lee said there are three rarer districts with headquarters at Elizabethtown, Vienna and Jonesboro, in which Casey will work with the forestry staff.

Big Scale Farmer From Abroad Here Under 4-H Program

A farmer from far away Pakistan has been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold West, farm family in the Cottonwood community, for the past three weeks. He is here to observe farming methods in this country as compared to those in his native land.

Sadardin M. Rashadi, whose home is near Nawabshah, Pakistan, is visiting in the United States under the International Farm Youth Exchange, a non-government organization. The exchange is through the 4-H world-wide foundation. At present there are 4-H organizations in 40 or more countries of the world and the farm youth exchange program is one of the major projects of the 4-H.

This isn't the first experience with the exchange program for Rashadi or Mr. and Mrs. West. Last year the Pakistan farmer entertained an Ohio farm boy in his home and also last year Mr. and Mrs. West had a farm youth from Chile to stay with them for about a month.

Farms 3,900 Acres

Sadardin M. Rashadi, who prefers to be called Shah, his nickname at home, farms on a big scale. He owns 1,900 acres and leases an additional 2,000 acres.

Principal crops are wheat, cotton and rice. He has 47 acres in orchard and raises citrus fruits, mangos (described as a sweet, delicious fruit), bananas and others. He also has some ground in vegetables, has cows and chickens, but does not raise hogs.

He explained that he, and most everyone in his country, were Moslems, and do not eat pork.

One of the big differences in farming in the United States and in Pakistan is the mechanical equipment used here. The Shah has only one tractor and uses it in the cultivation of a 177 acre tract.

"Labor is cheap in my country and it is more economical to hire many people than to buy and operate tractors," it was stated.

Irrigation Needed

More than 200 families are in the employ of Shah and 400 head of oxen are available to use in labor about the farms.

He also is amazed that irrigation is unnecessary in successful farming here. In the province where Shah lives the annual, average rainfall is five inches and without irrigation it would be impossible to carry on a farming program. But the temperature is wonderful, varying from 50 to 100 degrees and farming is carried on all year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dying hurricane Connie flung heavy winds and rains over seven states today, leaving a heavy toll of dead and damage in its wake.

At least 30 deaths were blamed on the big storm as it slowed to gale force in its erratic movement northward inside the coast.

In the single biggest disaster, the howler smashed an ancient three-masted schooner in Chesapeake Bay, leaving at least 10 persons drowned and 4 missing.

Flash floods, power failures, fallen trees, and other damage were reported in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Connecticut.

The U. S. Weather Bureau's warning center here ordered all hurricane signals hauled down, but warned of heavy rains in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

In a 9 a. m. EDT bulletin, the bureau reported the center of the storm was a short distance west of Baltimore, Md., and moving north northwest at 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Big Blow Weakens

It said it has "continued to weaken" with winds northeast of the center mostly 30 to 40 miles an hour. It predicted continued heavy rain as far as 250 miles northwest, north and northeast of the center. It warned of probable floods in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York state.

Meanwhile, a new big wind—hurricane Diane—moved toward the island of Bermuda 700 miles east of the mainland.

The deluge had dumped nearly 9 inches of rain on New York City and the Weather Bureau said there was no sign of a letup. It was the city's heaviest downpour since 1926. At least 10 deaths were reported in the New York metropolitan area, including a man electrocuted and a woman either drowned or electrocuted in flooding cellars.

Richmond, Va., got 9 1/2 inches of rain up to midnight, the heaviest ever recorded in that city. Washington got what the Weather Bureau described as the "amazing total" of 6.59 inches. Four students from Thailand died when their car plunged into the capital's swollen Rock Creek after a crash.

Red Cross at Work

The Red Cross reported that it is taking care of more than 14,000 storm refugees along the Eastern Seaboard.

The heavy winds and rain played havoc with traffic and homeowners. Slippery roads and poor visibility caused numerous accidents. In some areas highways were washed out.

In the New York metropolitan area, more than 100,000 homes were without electricity.

Some 1,000 persons were evacuated from their homes in Connecticut along Long Island Sound in anticipation of rising waters.

Connie, who has outgassed the experts as often as not, turned into Chesapeake Bay during the night just when forecasters were expecting it to plunge up the coast with increased strength and speed.

Boy Drowns In Ohio River

Douglas Dwayne, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mezo of Mt. Vernon, drowned while fishing in the Ohio river near Cave-In-Rock Friday evening. His body was not recovered last night and searchers were searching the river for it today.

The boy and his father were fishing from the dam near Cave-In-Rock when the boy fell into the water and disappeared.

Breaks Arm

Forrest Wayne Richardson, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Richardson of South Washington street, fell Wednesday evening suffering two broken bones in his left arm. He was taken to the Harrisburg hospital and released Thursday morning.

THE NOT-SO-GOOD EARTH — Edward T. Penneck, left, shows neighbor Lester C. Jones how this summer's searing heat has turned soil in tomato planting on his Burlington County, N. J., farm to dust.
While corn and alfalfa have benefited from the heat, ground crops have suffered in many places from the worst-in-years summer and major crops are threatened if successive heat waves set in.

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Lepespedeza Excellent August Pasture

Lepespedeza is usually included in pasture seedings made at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station. In mixtures it is spring seeded at the rate of five to seven pounds per acre. If you doubt the value of lepespedeza, we invite you to walk across some of our mixed pastures
now. It will renew your faith in this plant. Cattle, particularly more mature animals, will grow smooth and fat on it. Beef cows grazing lepespedeza during late summer and fall will put on enough fat
—fill the gas tank, so to speak—to coast well into the winter with a minimum of high-quality roughage. This makes cows and calves more profitable. In southern Illinois don't overlook lepespedeza in your pasture program.

Preparing for Pasture Seedings
One of the big jobs on the Station now is getting seedbeds prepared for fall seeding of pastures.
The earlier these seedbeds can be prepared, the better it will be for saving moisture and controlling weeds. Seedings made in August, preferably by mid-August, can be made without a nurse or companion crop. If the fertility level is high, the grass and clover seedlings should grow well enough to provide an erosion-resistant cover.
However, if seedings run too late
—let's say into September and October—nurse crops will help to hold down erosion.

Farm Life Is a Good Life
Farm life is a good life. It holds a natural attraction for many
"would-be" farmers. City dwellers envy a farmer's freedom and his "breathing room." We at the Dixon Springs Station have a chance to talk to many of these "would-be" farmers. While passing through on vacation, they stop in to seek advice and to expand their dreams.
A common dream is a farm with rolling green pastures being grazed with fat, contented cows and

"cute" little calves. Many feel that this is all they need to "make a go" of farming. What they do not realize is that cow and calf farming is a most extensive type of farming, that a large number of cows and a large number of acres are needed to provide an adequate income.

Think of it this way: Three to four acres of improved pasture will support a cow for a year and raise a calf to weaning. The gross return from that calf will be somewhere in the neighborhood of $75.
Will sixty calves from 200 acres return enough for expenses and living? It won't be a very good life. There is a place on most farms for cows and calves. The cows will consume feed that is otherwise unmarketable. The choice, then, is to increase the farm business through other intensive operations. Feeding cattle, milking cows, raising poultry and feeding lambs and hogs are ways of increasing the farm business. These enterprises naturally require more labor, but they help to make farm life a good life.

Flushing Ewe Flock
On August 1 about 300 grade ewes at the Station were moved from fescue pasture to Ladino clover pasture. These ewes recently weaned lambs and were placed on the grass pasture to help them dry
up. Now, before breeding season, the ewes are being put on some of our best clover pasture to encourage better condition and health.
This practice, known to sheepmen
as flushing, has long been thought to improve the breeding efficiency of the flock and results in higher fertility and more evenly grouped lots of lambs. About August 10 to August 15 rams will be put on the clover pasture with the ewes.

Bagworm Control
Bagworms have been plentiful
this year. They are most common on evergreen ornamentals, and unless controlled they can cause severe damage. If the infestation is light, the best control is to hand-pick them. Some evergreens at the Dixon Springs Station had many bagworms. The forestry crew recently sprayed these ornamentals with arsenate of lead. Randy Boggess, Station forester, says that he mixed arsenate of lead at the rate of two pounds per 100 gallons of water and sprayed for complete coverage. Randy suggests that the plants be sprayed again if rain falls within three to four days after the first spraying.

Treatments on the Morrow Plots
at the University of Illinois were changed this year for only the second time in 79 years when a strip of chemical fertilizer was run across all six of the plots.

Lightning tends to strike the

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

If the old pasture is run down, needing a shot in the arm and some new forage that is more nutritious than the mixture of poor grasses and unpalatable weeds it contains now, the time is at hand to do something about it. The project comes under the subject of renovation.

A poor pasture is a poor investment. Livestock really gets meager sustenance from a pasture that has only a thin sod composed of remnants of desirable grasses,
broomedge, and poverty grass.
Food value and palatability decline under grazing soon after the lush growing period of spring is past. If livestock continues to run on the pasture it is over-grazed and there is increased danger of erosion on rough areas.

The restoration process can be carried out with little danger of soil loss and the pasture can be restored to greater productivity. After the spring growth of forage
has been grazed away by mid-summer the renovation project ought to be started. The procedure involves disking, spring-tooth harrowing, or otherwise tearing up the old sod. It may be desirable to work the pasture more than once during the summer before seeding time in the fall. Such cultivation leaves much of the old plant residue exposed to cut down erosion danger.

Lime and the necessary fertilizer,
as revealed by soil tests, must be applied well in advance of the last disking, and mixed well with the soil.

Select a good seed mixture for pastures. Generally it should be made up of the taller-growing,
deeper-rooted grasses and legumins including alfalfa. In some cases clover, lespedeza, tall fescue, orchard grass, and others. Normally the grasses and alfalfa are seeded in September and the lespedeza is added in March. It may be desirable to seed the steeper slopes with a companion crop of winter grains
at the rate of one bushel per acre
to help control erosion.

Of course, the expense and effort involved in pasture renovation will be wasted if the farmer doesn't take adequate precautions to protect the field until the seeding is well established. Grazing livestock must be kept off until about midsummer of the first year. Then practice controlled grazing to foster better pasture growth.

Speaking of fertilizers brings up the thought that it is always good business on the farm to read the guaranteed analysis tag on the fertilizer bag before making a purchase. A comparison of actual plant food content and price may save both time and money for the farmer.

Of course, it is common knowledge that the analyses always are written with the percent of actual nitrogen first, the percent of available phosphorus second, and the percent of water-soluble potash third. For example: A 100-pound bag of 3-9-27 fertilizer contains three pounds of nitrogen, nine of available phosphorus, and 27 of water-soluble potash.

Using this information the farmer
may reduce the per bag prices of various kinds of fertilizer to the actual cost of the substances which will benefit his crops. Generally it is more economical to buy higher analysis fertilizers than those of lower analysis, both as to transportation costs and the actual food value obtained.

Record High Crops in State

SPRINGFIELD (UPL)—The State Federal Crop Reporting Service today chalked up predictions of record high corn and soybean crops,
and said wheat, oats and hay production this year has set new records.

The crops are Illinois' "big five."
The crop service said the Aug. 1
estimates indicated a crop of 537 million bushels of corn compared with 449 million bushels in 1954,
and a 116 million bushel soybean crop, compared to 92 million bushels a year ago.

The 1955 winter wheat crop was placed at 47 million bushels, the largest since 1931 with the exception of the 57 million bushel crop in 1953.

A record high oat yield of 55 bushels per acre added up to a total crop of 176 million bushels.
The Illinois 1955 hay crop was indicated at 5.2 million tons, compared with a previous record high of 4.7 million tons in 1954, the crop service said.

The present corn crop is expected to be second only to the record 564 million bushel crop of 1943.
The yield was estimated at 58 bushels per acre, 8.5 bushels higher than last year.

But the crop reporting service
said "timely rains will be needed to maintain current corn and soybean prospects."

The soybean yield expected is 25.5 bushels per acre, equal to the record highs of 1948 and 1951.

Weather conditions were ideal for the winter wheat crop, except in southeastern counties where the late freeze and a wet spring, followed by hot weather, decreased
the yields, the crop service said.

The 31.5 bushel per acre wheat yield is an all-time high, topping
the 1954 high of 29 bushels per acre.

Total oat production was 26 per cent higher than the 1954 crop of 140 million bushels, with a yield of 7 bushels per acre over the 1940 record.

Wheat Allotment For Farms With No Crop for Three Years

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1953, 1954, and 1955 may apply for a 1956 wheat acreage allotment, according to Paul B. Whitlock, Chairman of the Saline County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC Committee by August 31.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

No Phosphate Means Lower Yields

Most farmers can't afford to lose 25 bushels of corn per acre.

But your yield can drop that much or more if you fail to apply phosphate to a soil testing very low in available phosphorus, warns C.
M. Linsley, University of Illinois
soils specialist.

In tests conducted at the University's Agronomy South Farm,
two plots with rotations of corn,
soybeans, wheat and alfalfa-clover mixture were used to test the effect of phosphorus on yield.

Limestone, potash, nitrogen and rock phosphate were applied to one plot. Rock phosphate was omitted from the other plot.

Without rock phosphate corn yields dropped 25 bushels, soybeans four bushels, wheat nine bushels, and the alfalfa-clover mixture produced 800 pounds less to the acre.

Pakistan Visitor Observes Gallatin County Farming

throughout that part of the country. The canal carrying water used by Shah was built in 1932 and discharges water equal to that carried by the Thames river, he declared. Agriculture and other phases of the economy in Pakistan have advanced greatly in the past few years, Shah stated. "Only a few years ago we imported everything, from matches on up. Now we manufacture most everything we use—matches, clothing, sugar, most everything—we also have developed our oil resources," Shah stated.

Compulsory School Attendance
Rashadi, who speaks good English, stated that since 1947 there had been a program in Pakistan similar to the Farm Adviser setup in the United States and agriculture had made tremendous strides since.

Getting away from farming, Shah discussed the school system in Pakistan. A public school system with compulsory attendance is maintained. As explained by Shah, parents paying an annual tax of less than 2,000 rupees must send their children to school at least seven years and may send them longer if they desire. Parents paying more than 2,000 rupees tax per year are required to send their children to school at least 14 years. The exchange rate of the rupee is 3.6 to the American dollar.

English is the official language of Pakistan and after four years in school learning basic native subjects, all students are required to study the English language.

Busy During Visit
Shah was selected to come to the United States after making application to a committee in his province. He was interviewed, considered a good farmer and selected for the trip.

He has been busy during his stay in Gallatin county, going around with Mr. West, Farm Adviser Earl Lutz and others to observe as much as possible. He has seen tobacco crops in Kentucky, all crops native to this area, attended the Gallatin county 4-H fair in Ridgway last week, the White Forest College campus, Lake Forest, Ill. The weekend school opened today. They left Friday night and will return home Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Small and daughter, Leta Jane, have returned from a short vacation trip to Pontiac and Cadillac, Mich. They were accompanied by Mrs. Small's mother, Mrs. L. O. Hamby, who remained at Pontiac, visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hamby Jr. At Cadillac, the Smalls visited their son, Roy Curtis, who is employed in the editorial department of the Cadillac News.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Evans and children, Delores, Vivian and Rickey, Carrier Mills, have returned from Chicago where Mr. Evans, owner of the Carrier Mills Variety store, attended a convention of variety store owners at the Palmer House.

Johnson County Woman Dies
Mrs. Lizzie Wormack, 85, life long resident of Johnson county who lived in the Reevesville area, died early today at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marberry in East St. Louis.

The body is being returned to Vienna and being received by the Murrie funeral home.

Well Known Golconda Resident Dies
Cressie Gaskins, 52, well known citizen of Golconda, died suddenly today at 3:30 a. m. at his home.

The body lies in state at the Rottman funeral home and funeral arrangements are incomplete.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertrude Connolly, and two sons, Earl of East Moline and Carroll Gaskins of Germany.

Thomas Mann, Nobel Prize Novelist, Dies

ZURICH, Switzerland (U.P.)—The world paid tribute today to Thomas Mann, Nobel Prize winning "grand old man of German literature" who died Friday night.

Hundreds of messages poured in to the little post office at Kilchberg, the small town on the shores of Lake Zurich where the noted novelist spent the last months of his life before entering the hospital.

Mann's death was attributed to a thrombosis, or blood clot, following a period of general weakness. He was 80 years old.

At his bedside when the end came was his wife Katia, his daughter Erika Mann, and one of his sons.

Mann was stricken during a holiday in the Netherlands last month and was returned to Switzerland on a stretcher. Mrs. Mann said that her husband felt "quite strong and chipper otherwise."

His daughter said her father's funeral will be held at Kilchberg. Mann was probably the greatest of modern German novelists. He wrote in the tradition of Goethe and Heine. He also was a frank foe of Adolf Hitler and wrote frequently in opposition to the Nazi regime.

Opposition to the Nazis cost Mann his home near Munich, his belongings and his German citizenship. When he left Germany, he became first a citizen of Czechoslovakia and then, when that country went to Hitler, a citizen of the United States.

Gov't to Distribute $30 Million to States for Vaccine

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The government today launched a program to distribute 30 million dollars to the states for their Salk polio vaccine programs.

The funds will be delivered between now and next Feb. 15 under a bill signed into law by President Eisenhower Friday.

The measure authorizes federal grants to the states of enough funds to provide free vaccine for one-third of their still unvaccinated children and expectant women.

This will cost about 60 million dollars. But Congress, when it came to putting up the actual cash, voted only 30 million dollars as the government's share.

Each state's share of the allotment was determined by a formula based on the number of still unvaccinated persons in the state, the cost of the vaccine, and the state's per capita income.

State allotments include:
Illinois, $1,133,052; Indiana, $640,435; Iowa, $490,128; Michigan, $1,007,636; Minnesota, $593,448; Missouri, $681,648; Nebraska, $245,862; North Dakota, $160,718; South Dakota, $158,769; Wisconsin, $610,539.

Legion Host to Uniontown, Ky., Cardinals Sunday

Big Jim Bumpus and his Kentucky Cardinals will invade Harrisburg Sunday afternoon and tangle with the local Legion nine in a game at the park diamond. The Legion handed the Cardinals a 10 to 5 drubbing on their own field earlier this season and the visitors want to avenge the loss; one of the very few they have suffered this season.

Bumpus is slated to hurl for the visitors with Harris doing the backstopping. "Big Jim" is well known among local fans as he has been pitching for a number of years in the Tri-State area. At one time, "Big Jim" was a fire-ball hurler but in recent years he has been using a fine assortment of curves and know how in mowing down the opposing batters, using his speed ball only in emergencies.

The Legion will counter with either Bill McNew or Don Wallace on the hill with Dick Romonosky to do the receiving. Bob Dallas, Dick Odle, Carl Griffiths and Fred Williams are due for infield positions with Merle Dailey, Harold Guiley and Frank Logsdon marked for the outfield. Others who may possibly see action include Joe Speaks, Buzz Kennedy and Aggie Miller.

Game time is 2:15 p. m.

Eldorado Merchants To Play Carterville on Raleigh Diamond Sunday

The Eldorado Merchants will be host to the strong Carterville baseball team Sunday, the game to be played on the Raleigh diamond, starting at 2:30 p. m.

Eldorado's starting battery will be Sandusky or Woolard pitch and Eubanks or Feaguy behind the plate.

All Merchant players are asked to be at the diamond by 1 p. m. for pre-game practice.

Last Sunday's Eldorado-Henderson game was rained out.

Major Stars Banned From Winter Play

NEW YORK (AP) — The major league players' association blocked today from displaying their talents in the Caribbean winter league for $1,000 per month.

The new rules, drafted Friday by officials from the United States and Latin leagues, thereby curtailed such stars as Willie Mays of the New York Giants from playing winter ball. Mays, who won the National league batting title and Most Valuable Players award last season, also was the sensation of the winter league with the San Antonio club.

SHRIMP STEAKS LOBSTER

They Seined the Borrow Pit and Took Game Fish to Frolic in Lake Harrisburg

VOLUNTEER WORKERS aided state game wardens and city officials seined the borrow pit adjacent to the city reservoir yesterday morning and the top photo shows the group pulling in the seine with a good haul. Buffalo and carp were taken by persons on hand and the bass, crappie and bluegills were moved to Lake Harrisburg and released. Center photo shows the game fish being taken to the city truck, upon which water-filled tanks had been placed, for their trip to the new lake. Standing on the truck is Mayor Claude Gibbons. In center with bucket of small fish is P. J. Herron, member of the Harrisburg Water and Sewer board and next to him is Amos Doom, superintendent of the water and sewer department. At right is shown Horace Ritchey of Brushy township, state conservation officer, with an 18-pound buffalo taken out of the shallow borrow pit. A total of 2,000 crappie, 300 catfish, 200 bluegills and mollies and between 100 and 150 bass were moved to Lake Harrisburg. (Register Staff Photos)

Rosburg Leads Third Round of Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO (AP) — Bulging Bob Rosburg, 28-year-old father of three children, headed a contingent of youthful golfers and a graybeard into the third round of "World Championship" Golf Tournament today.

Rosburg refused to yield to the pressure attendant with this tournament Friday as he birdied seven of the first 11 holes on the way to a 67 which gave him a two-day total of 133.

The mark was good for a two-shot edge on Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., also a well-versed golfer and like Rosburg, one of the younger bright lights on the golf circuit.

Ulrich shot the best round of the day, a six under par 66 which gave him a halfway mark of 135.

Three strokes back of Ulrich was a man almost old enough to be his father, graying Henry Ransom, who stayed in contention with a 70 for 138.

Jay Hebert, Woodmere, Pa.; Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Bo Winger, Oklahoma City, Okla., were tied for fourth place with a 4 under par 140 totals.

Of the first six shooters, only Ransom could qualify as one of golf's older guard and former big names of the tour including Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Ed Furgol, Tommy Bolt, Cary Middlecott and Lew Worsham were far back in the standings.

Stars to Play At McLeansboro

The Harrisburg Stars travel to McLeansboro Sunday to meet the baseball club representing the Hamilton county seat town.

McLeansboro has a strong club this season, having lost but one decision. Last Sunday the Stars were trampled by Carterville 14-1, for their eighth defeat this year.

Harrisburg will send Ray Sisk to the mound, with Bledig his receiver. Others to see action will be Parton, Karnes, Zeigler, Shew, make, Smith, K. Nolen, Harrison, J. Nolen and Rauh.

All players are asked to meet at the town park diamond at 12 o'clock noon. Game time is 2 p. m.

College Stars Defeat Pro Browns, 30-27

Play Platoon System To Turn On Pressure During Last Half

CHICAGO (AP) — Curly Lambeau's hand-picked collegiate football players can play professional style as well as the best of the veterans, it appeared today.

Lambeau's 1955 aggregation, selected to play the platoon system, were more adept in both offense and defense than the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns and turned on the pressure in the last half for a 30-27 victory in the 22nd annual battle Friday night.

There were nearly as many heroes as All Stars, but tiny Tad Weed, a 146 pound left footed place kicker from Ohio State, L. G. Dupre, speedy halfback from Baylor, and Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame quarterback who played the full game for the collegians, stood out on offense.

Bettis and Grier Shine On defense the flashiest were linebacker Tom Bettis of Purdue, tackle Rosey Grier of Penn State, and Jim Temp of Wisconsin, and halfback Frank Bernardi of Colorado.

Weed set a game record with three field goals, from the 28, 20 and 41 yard lines, while Guglielmi completed 10 of 19 passes for 129 yards and hit Henry Hair of Georgia with a five yard pitch for one touchdown.

Dupre ran for 74 yards on 12 carries and caught three passes for 49 yards, including one 19 yard toss which took the Stars to the pro's one yard line to set up a touchdown by Toledo's Mel Triplett.

The final All Star touchdown was by Frank Eidom of Southern Methodist on a two yard plunge after Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette returned a kickoff 48 yards and Dupre turned in a 19 yards run to get in scoring position.

The Browns stayed in contention in the first half when George Ratterman plunged a yard for one touchdown, passed to Ray Renfro for 25 yards for another and Renfro ran 18 yards for a third. But the All Star defense held Cleveland winners of a divisional or league championship every year since its organization, without a first down for more than 20 minutes of the last half.

Morrison Closes Gap Then, trailing by 10 points, Ratterman sparked a passing surge downfield which ended when Fred Morrison plunged from the five for the final pro points.

The victory was the seventh for the collegians in the annual struggle, in which the pro's have won 13 and tied two. The last All Star win was in 1950, 17-7 over Philadelphia.

This year was the first the All Stars were coached by professional mentors, and the team played like pro's. The 30 points was a new high for a college team in the event, surpassing the 28 scored against Washington's 16 in 1938 and the 28 scored against Green Bay's 45 in 1940.

Forestry-Wildlife Project Announced

assistant director of the department, the 210,000 acres of the Shawnee forest are checkerboarded in a range of more than 800,000 acres.

The tract already contains a sizable population of rabbit, bobwhite quail, squirrel and deer-bearing animals. The white tail deer has established itself in large numbers in many areas, and beaver colonies are numerous in the bottomlands of the entire region.

A wild turkey restocking program is under way and, in the fall, the department intends to introduce several plantings of roughed grouse in habitat favorable to the needs of the species.

Martin said that the irregular boundaries of the forested portion of the Shawnee tract lend themselves to ideal game management experiments. He said the Forest Service had agreed to leave the fringe openings unplanted and it is on these small areas the biologists will develop game food and cover plantings. Fertilization may be tried in a number of regions.

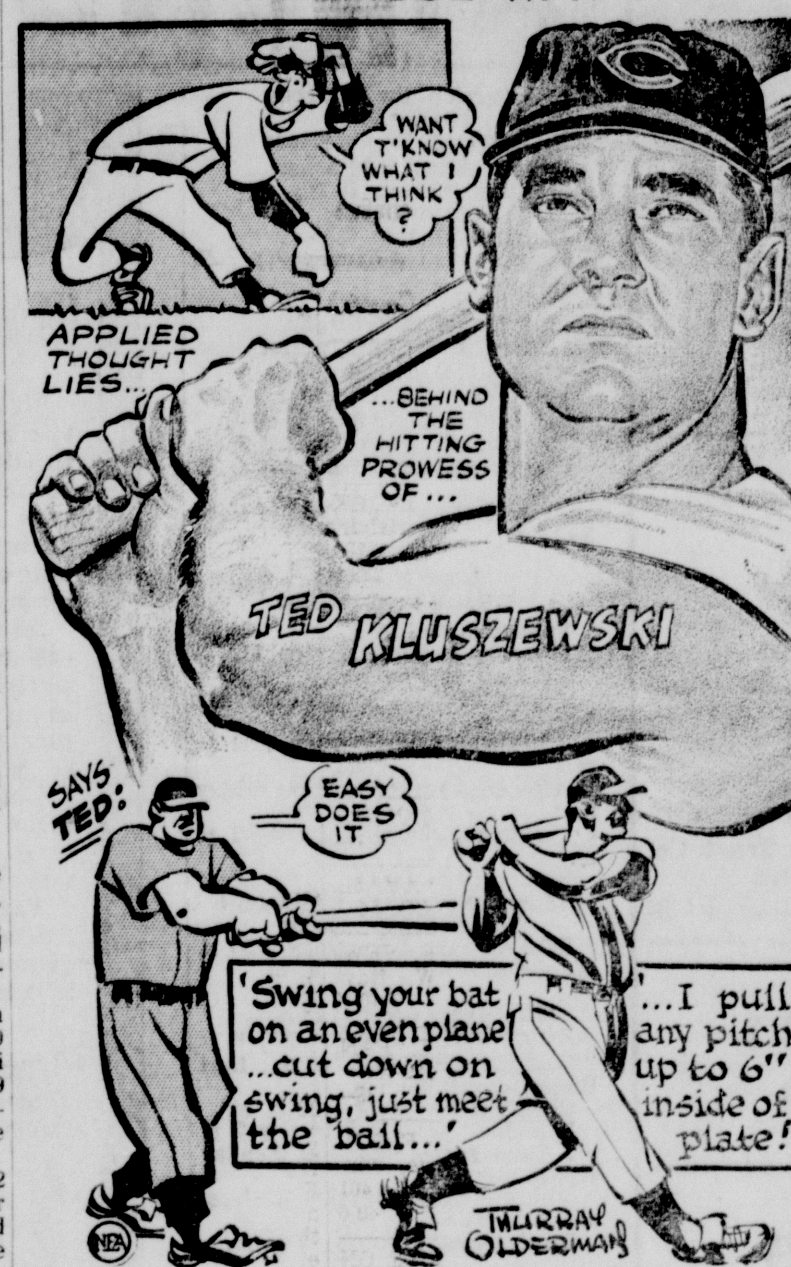

Long Range Program "Fringe areas, with a forest background, are ideal small game areas," the assistant director explained. "By taking advantage of the small openings in the edge of the forested land, we hope to increase the extent of the fringe, providing habitat for increased game and, of course, the byproduct should be improved hunting. This is a long-range program which should begin to produce results in several years."

Casey is a native of Kentucky but has spent about half of his 34 years in Illinois. He is married and father of two children. The family formerly lived in Nashville, but the last year has been in Mt. Vernon. Casey plans to move closer to the Shawnee area after a survey of his work with the forestry staff.

Casey studied forestry at the University of Idaho and at the University of Kentucky before enrolling in wildlife management at the University of Michigan from which he was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1952. He joined the Illinois conservation department in September of 1952. In addition to his regular game management duties, he operated the Belle Rive public hunting ground one season and has been in charge of the Clinton county public hunting area the last two years.

BIG LEAGUE WAY

Indians Sweep Doubleheader From Kansas City to Extend Lead to Full Game

The Cleveland Indians stretched their winning streak to five games today in the first "big move" calculated to break the log jam at the top of the American league standings.

The Indians swept to the flag last year on a combination of sound pitching and long-ball hitting — and that's exactly the formula they used in sweeping Friday's day-night doubleheader from the Kansas City Athletics, 17-1 and 6-5. The five-game streak is their second longest of the campaign and the best any of the four contenders has put together in three weeks.

As a result, the Indians opened up a one-game first-place lead on the Chicago White Sox—not much of a margin but the longest any A. L. team has held since Chicago held the same lead on Aug. 3. The White Sox defeated the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, Friday night but dropped back a half game. Third-place New York and fourth-place Boston were rained out of scheduled games with Baltimore and Washington.

Grand Slam by Hegan

The Indians celebrated Bob Lemon's return to the starting rotation in the afternoon game with a thunderous 18-hit barrage that included a grand slam homer by Jim Hegan and two homers by Bobby Avila. Avila also singled and drove in a total of six runs in the Indians' second biggest offensive outburst of the campaign.

Lemon, who had not won a game since July 8 and hadn't started since July 19, shutout the Athletics on four hits for six innings before turning over a 13-0 lead to Sal Maglie. The ex-New York Giant curveballer went the remainder of the way, limiting the Athletics to two hits and an unearned run in the ninth inning.

Trailing, 2-0, the Indians erupted for five runs in the sixth inning of the night game and then held off Kansas City's two-run surge in the ninth. Al Smith's homer and Hal Naragon's triple were the big blows of the rally.

Jim Rivera, who had enjoyed a field day against Kansas City on Thursday, blasted a two-run homer in the first inning to give the White Sox the only runs they needed to beat the Tigers. Virgil Trucks received credit for his 11th triumph, aided by Dixie Howell's shutout relief work in the last 1 1/3 innings.

Flag Hopes About Dead The loss was the fifth straight and seventh in nine games for the Tigers, virtually writing them out.

Lyle Lee Sets New Water Skiing Record On Lake of Ozarks

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP) — Lyle Lee of Galatia, Ill., set a new endurance and distance record for water skiing on the Lake of the Ozarks Friday, riding at a steady 25-mile-an-hour clip for 15 hours and 400 miles.

He quit at 8 p. m., saying a stiff leg muscle seemed to be the only thing bothering him. The water was rough and winds were high. Lee's ride lowered a record set by two Memphis, Tenn., water skiers last June.

Wildcats, Jukes Win Games in Kiwanis League

By David Nelson The Wildcats downed VFW, 10-4, and the Golish Jukes beat the Wildcats, 7-1, in Kiwanis league games played Friday.

Emery Henshaw pitched a three-hitter as the Wildcats downed VFW, 10-4. The winners scored three runs in the first frame, one in the second and third, three in the fourth and one in the fifth and sixth. The losers tallied lone runs in the first, second, fourth and sixth.

E. Henshaw gave up four runs on three hits, one error and eight bases on balls, while striking out seven. Duke and C. Henshaw pitched for VFW, giving up 10 runs on four hits, one error and 10 free passes while striking out 11 batters.

For the Wildcats at the plate, Rauh doubled and L. Henshaw, Furlong and Neely singled. For VFW Stricklin singled twice and C. Henshaw hit safely once.

Both teams got only four hits as the Jukes beat the Wildcats, 7-1. The winners scored two in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth. The losers' lone tally came in the first when Nelson stole home.

Pavelonis and Pickford hurled for the Jukes, giving up one run on four hits and three bases on balls. L. Henshaw and J. B. Henshaw, Wildcat pitchers, allowed seven runs on four hits, one error and four walks.

For the Jukes at bat Pickford homered and singled and Furlong tripled and singled. For the Wildcats, Nelson had two hits and J. B. Henshaw and Stricklin hit safely once.

HOW TALL THE TREES...

How tall the trees, and how straight the road. It cuts unswervingly through the countryside, and the trees border it like sentinels. Sentinels they have been too, walls of protection during storm, blessed shade when the heat of the noonday sun is mercilessly strong.

As we go through life, it might be easier if our roads could be that straight. But so often they aren't. So often they are full of unexpected turnings. So often we're tempted to stray from them entirely.

But we, too, have a sentinel to protect us... in the Church. It is there to shelter us in storms, to shade us when we've erred.

The Church teaches mercy. It teaches compassion. It teaches forgiveness. We need the Church, and it is never too late to find it.

'The Courage of Daniel'

Daniel 5:17-28
GOLDEN TEXT: "It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak." (Romans 14:21).

INTRODUCTION — Let us face some facts which nobody can deny. Two-thirds of the people over fifteen years of age in the United States today are drinkers. Seven million drinkers have become alcoholics, or problem drinkers. The liquor industry is spending each year more than 200 million dollars for advertising in magazines, newspapers, and on radio and T. V. programs. This 200 million dollars is to attempt to entice others to drink.

A learned man said recently that the people will become sick of the results of the liquor drinking in another generation, and it will be done away with. If we knew that were to be true, let me ask you one question: "What about this generation?" Why should greedy men be permitted to feed on the very souls of the youth of our land for no other purpose than to line their own pockets with gold?

Let us look to Daniel for a lesson.

I. A YOUNG MAN WITH CONVICTIONS (V. 17)

Daniel was a strong young man. He was courageous. Read the first four chapters of Daniel and see what a fine person he really was. He refused to eat the king's meat or to drink his wine. Now that was something! Talk about being embarrassed when you are offered a "social drink" by your friends. What would you do if the king or some other great leader set the drinks before you? Would you "dare to be a Daniel?" I saw forty-five Christians refuse to drink

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
